Every year the College of Charleston ROAR Scholars Program hosts events and workshops that teach important information we feel student’s need to know prior to graduating from the College of Charleston. We asked students to submit proposals regarding additional workshops or events they would like to see ROAR sponsor or co-sponsor.

Senior Coca-Cola/ROAR Scholar, Darshonda Guess brought it to our attention that she would like for ROAR to host the “Dining Etiquette Dinner” that we hosted last year.

So on Wednesday November 18 @ 6:30 pm we co-hosted the 2nd Annual Dining Etiquette Dinner with the sisters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Once again Ashley Lawrence from the Admissions Office graced us with her knowledge and experience and helped our students learn about proper etiquette during a formal dining situation.

Seeing my vision recreated was definitely a highlight of my last fall semester here at the College. Thomas Holcomb and Ashley Lawrence stood beside me every step of the way to ensure the idea was executed. There is no way this could have been done without them. Producing the Dining Etiquette Seminar this semester has proved the ROAR Scholars Program upholds its mission to support and cultivate its students. I am very proud to be a ROAR Scholar and encourage you all to take on an endeavor to pursue. No matter what your goals or dreams are, you can always impact those around you!
